1. Again discussed the problem of resignation with Loyalty Board Case No. 29 and her husband. As a result No. 29 stated that she would not face an Employment Review Board but would submit her resignation forthwith. She requested consideration to make the resignation effective by the close of business on 10 October in order that she might have the full month to build up a proper resignation cover story. I discussed this proposal with DD/A, Colonel White and Colonel Edwards and, as a result, informed them that CIA would be willing to accept the resignation effective 10 October and that, while there was a possibility rather than a probability, her husband might come under security review because of his marriage, that he should continue to work as normally in FDD, at least until such time as his proposed transfer to the State Department had been acted upon.

2. I discussed with Mr. Dulles the proposed revision of the order on Loyalty and Employment Review Boards, and he has concurred in the drafts and approved the selection of Boards for the first two cases for consideration. The major change is the setting of the day and time certain for the Board to meet.
